Guided by his personal vision to have positive impact on the world by inspiring others to do the same Scott has facilitated learning in a variety of leadership topics in both higher education and private sector arenas around the world. Scott believes that authentic, compassionate, transformational leadership builds trust, hope, and stability in followers.

Scott is currently in his 36th year as a faculty member at Phoenix College, the flagship institution of the Maricopa Community College District in Phoenix, Arizona. In addition to his faculty position, Scott served the college for 17 years as the Director of Athletics and 5 years as Director of the Paramedic Training Program. Scott received a B.A.S from Arizona State University in Interdisciplinary Studies and a Masters of Administration with a Leadership emphasis from Northern Arizona University. Scott is a Gallup Certified Strengths Educator. In 2004 Scott was awarded the honor of Athletic Director of the Year by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics and in 2007 was acknowledged by the National Junior College Athletic Association with its prestigious Loyalty Award. In 2009 Scott was named an Exemplary Leader at the International Chair Academy Leadership Conference, the same year the National Alliance of Two Year College Athletic Administrators honored Scott with their highest professional award, the L. William Miller Award recognizing athletics administration excellence at the two year level.

Scott lives with his wife Dianne and a rescued lab, Maddy, in Phoenix, Arizona. He is the proud parent of three adult children, Dustin, Christina and Alex.
